GRAGNANO, AN IDEAL MICROCLIMATE WITH THE RIGHT DOSE OF SUNSHINE, WIND AND HUMIDITY

Gragnano's location, seems to be in the exact spot to produce pasta, the abundance of spring water necessary for the mills functions and to produce pasta, its proximity to the slopes of the Lattari Mountains from which cool winds blow to naturally dry pasta, its position in a sunny valley with the right percentage of humidity.

The urban layout of the city was amended in the 19th century in order to make Via Roma sunnier and fresher due to the wind coming from the Mountain.

DURUM WHEAT
SEMOLINA AND WATER.

Our pasta is dried in static cells
at low temperature for at least 24 hours, in order to preserve quality and taste.

The bronze extrusion and slow drying process gives that particular roughness to pasta, perfect for many seasonings.

AN ACCURATE SELECTION OF THESE TWO ELEMENTS

JULY 3, 1703

The “Lo Monaco” mill was granted on lease and later sold to the entrepreneur Giambattista Di Nola, who would become the father-in-law of Marcantonio Iozzino

SEPTEMBER 2, 1797

the mill was inherited by Serafina Di Nola and her husband Marcantonio Iozzino, who together with their four sons Ferdinando, Luigi, Carlo, and Antonio, started the activity of pasta production

APRIL 7, 1840

Tommaso Iozzino, son of Ferdinando Iozzino, repurchased for 400 ducats the shares of the “Lo Monaco” mill previously sold by his uncles, becoming a co-owner with his father Ferdinando and his uncle Carlo

1846

Tommaso Iozzino started his own workshop for the production of artisanal dry pasta in Via San Marco, known as the ‘pasta street’ (today called Via Roma)

JULY 1, 1851

Tommaso Iozzino inherited the shares of the ‘Lo Monaco’ mill from his father Ferdinando and his uncle Carlo, becoming the solo owner. He then later sold it for 5900 ducats, but carried forward the production in Via San Marco with his son Ferdinando

JULY 18, 1907

Tommaso Iozzino started a business in the dried fruit industry in Piazza Paride del Pozzo. The business was later taken over by his nephew Tommaso Zenone Iozzino, son of his brother Emilio

1920

Ferdinando Iozzino set up a company with two entrepreneurs from the area and moved the historic factory from Via San Marco to Via S.Caterina.

The company was named ‘Pastificio La Gragnanese’ and kept its business on the market for about ten years

JUNE 7, 2018

Tommaso and Domenico Iozzino, two brothers and entrepreneurs in the dried fruit industry for four generations, resumed the production of artisanal dry pasta started about two centuries earlier by their ancestors
